WEDNESDAY MORNING APRIL 22, 1863

The Destruction of the Ship Jacob Bell

We have no additional particulars of the destruction of the tea ship Jacob Bell of New York, by the Confederate cruiser Oreto The The estimated value of the property destroyed including vessel and freight money, is about three quarters of a million, the greater portion of which is insured in England The outrage will probably have the effect to arouse the people of the commercial States to prompt action in providing fast and well armed vessels under the Letter of Marque Law to pursue and exterminate the whole brood of pirate craft Our Navy is rapidly becoming the object of derision and contempt, not because its officers and men are not brave and loyal, but rather from the lack of efficient management The venerable grandmother at its head, whose cultivated white hairs demand our respect, might play Secretary well enough, perhaps in time of peace, but now she seems to be of no more force than a pair of turtle doves, or two young pigeons She sits sublimely serene amid all the burning wrecks and confederate captures, and calmly pockets her greenback salary with all the resignation of a martyr She appears to think these catastrophes are a part of the programme, and therefore, like a philosopher, "takes things as they come"—We know there are some who boast of the fast growing magnitude of the Navy, and its tremendous power, but we "don't see it" We admit that a great many dollars have been paid for a great many vessels, but what has been accomplished? Commenting upon this subject, the New Bedford Mercury says —

We cannot, however, but rejoice at the probable effect of this last piece of villainy upon the government and people. It must result in something more than a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the passage of resolutions. It should stung the Navy Department into something more effective than the sending out of a fleet of steamers to "look after" the Alabama and Florida. If we have not a vessel the equal of these pirates in speed, let one be built If there are not men in the navy who care to encounter Semmes or Maffit, we can furnish half a dozen whaling captains, who would not shrink from the conflict.

JOHN VAN BUREN AT THE NEW YORK UNION MEETING.—Among the speakers at the great Union Meeting in New York City on Friday night, was Mr. John Van Buren, who said —

It is now a contest forced upon the non slaveholding and loyal slaveholding States, by those who are endeavoring to build up a republic based on slavery To prostrate a rebellion that has that object in view, I am willing to devote any means, any time, any exertions within my power, during the rest of my life.

Alluding to the Conscription Act, Mr Van B. said .—

I can very well understand how, if I sympathized with the rebellion—if I deemed that this war should fail—I could spend hours and columns in picking flaws in this act But if I believe that substantial justice requires—that the great ends of prosecuting the war demand—that the whole power of the government shall be placed by the Congress of the United States in the President of the United States, I will bow in silence to the act whether I approve of it or not [Prolonged cheers.]

PROGRESS OF OPINION —The following is an extract from a letter from an officer in the Army of the Potomac, and is an illustration of the change in sentiment which the logic of events is inevitably producing The letter is dated February 10th, and the writer has been in the army from the commencement of the war:

I can also agree with you in the belief that the war is to free the slaves That conclusion was arrived at long since I never was an abolitionist, but am now willing to believe it for the best, and although my voice never would have consented that so great a price be paid for their liberty, yet now that it is manifest the work is in a hand mightier than man's, I can say with sincerity that it is better to fight for years, than ever to restore the Union with Slavery."

OHIO SPEAKS —The Ohio Legislature has adopted a sound platform for the Union party, in the following, which was offered by one Fisher, a Union Democrat, as a response to some petitions for an armistice and peace

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That we will have no dissolution of the Union, that we will have no armistice, that we can fight as long as rebels and traitors can, that the war shall go on until law is restored, and we will never despair of the Republic

THE INDIANA COPPERHEADS FOILED —The Copperheads of the Indiana Legislature lately adjourned, finding themselves unable to carry through their programme to strip the Governor of his constitutional authority over the military of the State, refused out of spite, to make the appropriations necessary to the proper administration of the State Government, the payment of interest on the debt and the maintenance of the public charities This scheme, however, is likely to fail quite as signominiously as the more direct assault of the malignant Democracy Already the County Commissioners of Marion county have offered to advance Governor Morton $15,000 to assist him in carrying on the State Government, and it is said this will be followed by similar offers from all the loyal counties

REBEL ATROCITY IN TEXAS —Private advices from Texas inform us of another of those cowardly and inhuman crimes committed by the rebel officers of Texas and by many of its citizens It will be remembered that the Confederate transport Cumbria left this city for Galveston just previous to the capture of the Harriet Lane and the disaster which drove our gunboats from the harbor and that when the Cumbria approached Galveston all on board supposed the place to be in possession of our troops whereas in fact it was in possession of the rebels A pilot came out to pilot in the vessel and shortly after a boat containing five men was seen coming ashore These five men were immediately seized and imprisoned by the rebels One of them was 'Nicaragua' Smith who was tried for desertion from a rebel regiment and shot as we have already announced in this paper Another of the five was a man named Thomas a loyal Texan, who had fled from the State and enlisted in the First Texas Cavalry under Col Davis, a regiment of loyal Texans organizing in this city Thomas had never been in the rebel service and so did not be liable for desertion and so the military authorities turned him over to the civil authorities of Texas The only reason that can be alleged for this barbarous act was the simple fact that Cochran was a Texan and had enlisted in the United States service There are a large number of loyal Texans now in this city who have enlisted in the cause of the Union and they look to the Government to give them the same protection it extends to the rest of its soldiers If we are not mistaken there is now at least one rebel lieutenant of Texas in prison in this city We refer to the individual who came out in a boat and attempted to induce the Cumbria to follow him as a pilot with a view of getting her into the hands of the rebels —New Era March 7th

THE EAST TENNESSEE LOYALISTS AROUSED —The Murfreesboro correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette furnishes the following budget of news

Times often make or develop the men needed Rebel iron rule in Tennessee and starving Union men—driving out the whole who would not join them, and in hanging and assassinating all that stopped their progress —has not only sent thousands of recruits into the ranks of the Union army, but has raised up in the very midst a fearless troop of avengers

A man by the name of Bottle (or better known as 'Turkey Dave," is the leader of about five hundred fearless men—who drop down on Morgan's guerilla bands and wipe them out as quietly as the angel of death I have heard the opinion expressed that rebel cavalry will not again venture into the counties of Fentress and Barton Those who have done so recently have not returned to give an account of their exploits

"The Devil must be fought with his own weapons" is the maxim of a certain class of warriors, and the kind of warfare encouraged during the last year, by the rebels is fast raising up a class of men who will put them on their own ground and with better weapons will give them mountain, rock and bush fighting to their heart's content At present I am not at liberty to say anything more on this topic, but you will hear again from Turkey Dave"

RUSSIA AND CIRCASSIA —Advices through Constantinople from the Caucasus represent the Russians in that region as making gigantic efforts to carry out their scheme of conquest among the independent races of that mountain district The report is that the Russian army there numbers now not less than 180,000 troops, and it is now attempted to render this vast force quite independent of the military exigencies of the rest of the empire, so that it may be solely devoted to prosecuting the objects of the campaign in the Caucasus The Turkish politicians fear that this large force will speedily prove too much for the already overtaxed powers of the Circassian tribes, and fears are beginning to be entertained for the ultimate safety of the Turkish Asiatic provinces of Armenia and Kurdistan

THE KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN CIRCLE IN INDIANA —The Indianapolis Journal says that news comes from every part of Indiana that the Knights of the Golden Circle are supplying themselves with arms It adds that immense quantities of revolvers and bowie knives are daily shipped from Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other places, into different parts of the State, and that they are sent into the country neighborhoods in lots of ten to one hundred, showing that companies and societies are all arming at once The Union Leagues will prove an effectual foil to these treasonable movements of the Knights

A GOOD PATRIOT —The following is an extract from the letter of a naval officer stationed in the Gulf

If you at home will kill off destructionists, impressionable date, or do anything with the miserable traitors, Peace Democrats among you we are willing to stay here and fight it out but if something is not done soon to shut up disloyalty at the North we propose to go home and it ourselves returning here afterwards to attend to secession

SICKNESS AT THE WEST —From all parts of the West we hear of the prevalence of sickness to an unusual and alarming degree especially among children The diphtheria scarlet fever and other diseases are making many of the little ones Especially throughout Northern Illinois have these diseases been committing fearful ravages for two or three months past Physicians attribute this unusual ill health to the mild and open winter —Chicago Tribune

THE IOWA ELECTIONS —The republicans of Iowa have swept all before them in the late elections At Tipton heretofore strongly democratic they carried their entire ticket by a good majority, at Le Claire a success equally decisive was achieved, in Waverly where the copperheads supposed themselves beyond all possibility of defeat the whole Union ticket was elected in Farmington, the same result was reached the Union vote being double that of their opponents

THE DISTRESSED IRISH COTTON OPERATIVES —On Friday, March 13th at the Philadelphia Corn Exchange in one hour over $2,000 was subscribed for the distressed cotton weavers and muslin embroiderers in the North of Ireland, and this amount will be considerably increased

A gentleman was recently driven from Alabama because he understood phonography — In the words of one of his judges "Phonography is again slavery and again the Confederate States, and we ought to be quit of it Therefore the short hand man had to travel

A PERTINENT REPLY —In the Illinois Legislature a Republican Senator was making a speech and the Democrats interrupted him asking him why he was not in the field He answered that he was where danger was most imminent and traitors were most numerous,' which comes very near the truth

The various armories in San Francisco are guarded nightly

THE RICHMOND EXAMINER ON FEDERAL CUTTON CRAFT —We alluded lately to the sharp trick of Admiral Porter at Vicksburg, whose ingenuity scared the rebels into destroying one of the finest prizes which they ever captured from us The Examiner of March 7th laughs and weeps over the affair in the following vein

"In the early part of the war the Southern Confederacy was much diverted with the Yankee knight at marked batteries little thinking the day would soon come for them to turn the tables on us and join in a general guffaw over our panic at gunboats During the summer of 1862 the newspapers (directed by the immense Conrad) pleaded earnestly for the fortification of coast harbors and rivers and of harbors to prepare the public mind for disasters which would inevitably ensue as soon as the gunboats began to swim in our waters But Davis sneer at navies and his reluctance to send Mallory and expended his energies in the creation of an average of two brigadiers each week

Due to the precaution of the newspapers quashed by the noble Conrad the gunboats came They knocked down the mud forts at Hatteras, and alarmed the good people of the Old North State beyond measure Their next exploit was up the Roanoke river, which Benjamin supposed to be placed as near as he could guess, at the confluence of the Nile and the Ganges After that the gunboats seized the whole country and the inhabitants were at the mercy of the Navy Department which her liberty and the Southern Confederacy could extort in the presence of a common floating machine or a piece of wood on the water

In this state of direful trepidation the unhappy South remained until the fight at Drury's Bluff On that eminence the fragmentary crews of Mr Mallory's exploded navies were assembled to contest the advance of this modern horror the iron gunboat Sailors marines and soldiers did their best and with the aid of Providence and some spunky Irish pepper artillery from the neighborhood succeeded in having the gunboat sent Here was bravery to skill but the exploit was a greater than the Chinese had performed in the Peiho Yet the whole Confederacy thrown into hysterics and wept diamond chunks and shed tears of Leonidas and Thermopylae And it certainly was The event was great in that it dissipated in a moment the gunboat panic since then gunboats have been regarded with such indifference that the gentlemen who are acting during Mr Mallory's permanent navy leave deserted navies altogether, and turned over all marine operations to a wild Tennessee cavalry under Wheeler, mounted on scrag-ponies

The Horse Marine system has answered admirably till now But of late a new terror has turned up The telegraph brings us tidings of something which is tremblingly described as a Turreted Monster' Gunboats are proclaimed in time of danger must standing nuts But when the case is altered from an invasion with a 'Turreted Monster' then the brave defenders of the Father of Waters can do nothing better than take 2 40 toward the mountains

The reported fate of the Indian Chief is even more disgraceful than farcical Here was perhaps the finest ironclad in the Western waters captured after a heroic struggle rapidly repaired, and destined to join the Queen of the West in a series of victories Next we hear that she was of necessity blown up, in the true Merrimac Mallory style, and why Laugh and hold your sides last you die of a surfeit of derision, O Yankeedom! Blown up because forsooth a flatboat or mudscow, with a small house taken from the back garden of a plantation put on top of it, is floated down the river before the frightened eyes of the Partisan Rangers A Turreted Monster!

'A most unfortunate and unnecessary affair," says the dispatch Rather so! The turreted monster proved to be a flatboat, with sundry fixtures to create deception! I think of that! 'She passed Vicksburg on Tuesday night and the officers (wise officers?) believing her to be a turreted monster, blew up the Indianola but her guns fell into the enemy's hands' That is passing odd Her guns fell into 'the enemy's hands after she was blown up?' Incredible! Mallory and Tatnall did better than that with the Merrimac

The Queen of the West continues the facetious dispatch, left in such a hurry as to forget part of her crew who were left on shore' Well done for the Queen of the West and her brave officers "Taken altogether' concludes the inimitable dispatch, 'it was a good joke on the Partisan Rangers, who are notoriously more cunning than brave' Truly an excellent joke—so excellent that every man connected with this affair (if every resemblance of the truth is contained in the dispatch) should be branded with the capital letters P M" and enrolled in a detached company to be known by the name of The Turreted Monster,' henceforth and forever We employ the conditional tense because as the reader will perceive by Gen Pemberton's telegram fail to date some doubt yet exists as to the true story from Pemberton it does not precisely extract but the original statement relative to the turreted panic but still avers that the gunboat fell into the enemy's hands, because one of them bursted, and the vessel itself is sunken in the river

FEARFUL CALAMITY IN ITALY —The town of Lecco in some of those pretty hills half Italian, half Swiss towns which line the North west shores of the Lago Maggiore The church with its dome towering over the other buildings its colored marbles and its quaint old frescoes by Luini is the one sight of the little city On Sunday the 9th of January, there was present in that church a congregation composed as is usually the case in this part of Europe almost entirely of women The men lounging about the piazza paid little attention and no other precaution against the fearful avalanches which had fallen during the last few days and nights in the almost unbroken calm around So little there was indeed heavy fall Suddenly they said in the distant valley and then a scream and murmur of great horror which spread through the quiet streets

All rushed to the spot and found a scene of the greatest confusion Half the church had never been cleared of the constantly falling snow and the immense weight accumulated was too great for the strength of the worst built building The whole dome gave way and fell on the congregation then kneeling in prayer In that gloomy fifty three female corpses were found after the ruins had been cleared by the inhabitants One, a bride of twenty years of age named Bonzi was alone extricated alive and was carried to her home with a small piece of rockery but she had broken one arm and both legs One little man alone perished among the fifty three women who fell victims in this awful ruin —Cincinnati World

THE PEACE POINT —The Virginia City Enterprise says We do not assert that every Peace Democrat is a secessionist but if such it be who will not fight for the Union, we do assert that he is not a Peace Democrat

The Intelligencer thinks that Charleston and Savannah will not be Lee's best policy and maintains that it will take about as long to reduce it,

RUSSIAN OUTRAGES —The London News says —In Warsaw the terror of the Government is very great as anyone in whose house arms or insurgents may be found will be tried by a Court martial and executed at once and the house is to be destroyed by cannon

After the Count Dembrowski a lad of ten years old having run out of the house at the roar of the cannon exclaimed that it was the intervention of Providence that kept the Russian bullets from the Poles An infuriated Cossack hearing this seized the boy saying Let Providence now keep the bullets from you' killing him on the spot One of the murdered Poles had a spoon in his pocket with which the Russian soldiers took some blood out of the Poles wounds and placing it to the lips of the corpse, shouted out, Drink some of this punch!

The whole of the estates of the immense property of Count Zamoyski at Zwierzyniec containing papers feared etc have been destroyed and the beautiful country place Klemensow and another estate, Didaczot, have been made heaps of ruins

The town of Kressow was on the 14th of February occupied by the Russians and levelled to the ground the greater part of the inhabitants imprisoned among them the Curate Bukaszewicz who however was beaten with such unmercifully The insurgents having been met near that town offered a gallant resistance, and had several wounded, among them was a priest They then retreated into the forests of Kurzopol

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

RECORDER'S COURT.—A man named Hughey was arraigned before Recorder McCoy, yesterday, on complaint made by Fred Dolberg charging him with having violated Ordinance No. 10 in using indecent and immoral language, and otherwise conducting himself in a disorderly manner, in the Pearl Saloon. His Honor, after hearing the evidence, discharged the defendant; it appearing that it a was gambler row, and that the complainant was equally guilty, and no just grounds for complaint.

WORTH PERUSAL.—On the fourth page of this morning's issue will be found a well written and very interesting narrative of "The last cruise of the Monitor," by one who participated in the scenes of that stormy night when that noble vessel went down under the angry waters off Cape Hatteras. Read it.

TO BUILDERS.—The attention of builders is called to the proposals building a schoolhouse for the Congregation Beth-Israel in this city, corrected in to-day's issue. The time for receiving bids is to the 1st May next, instead of the 10th as published yesterday.

CIDER.—We acknowledge the receipt of a bottle of cider from W. S. Torrance, Esq., which beats all that we have yet received. It was made from the celebrated Hughes crab apple.

ZOU ZOUS.—A meeting of the Zou Zou volunteer military company is called to-night, at 8 o'clock, at the Gymnasium Hall.

MURDERED BY INDIANS.—A German named [illegible] Marks and his married daughter, Caroline [illegible], were murdered by the Cowichan Indians on one of the islands in the Gulf of Georgia, on the 1st of April. Marks had been a resident of Washington Territory, but had taken up a farm on Jones Island, in the Gulf, and was engaged in removing his family to their new home in two canoes, himself and daughter in one and his wife and five children in the other. During a squall the two boats separated, and the one containing his wife and children [illegible]. The other was found broken up and [illegible] bodies [illegible] dead on the beach at an island where they had taken refuge. The [illegible] are supposed to have been sunk, as is the [illegible] of these Indians after committing murder.

MOUNTAIN EXPEDITION TO BOISE.—The Mountaineer says that a detachment of fifty men, [illegible] to go to Capt. Harris' company of Oregon Cavalry, left Fort Dalles on Tuesday morning for Fort Walla Walla, on their way to the Boise country. The detachment will be increased at the last named fort by all the force that can be spared from there. Lieut. Hopkins, with twenty-five members of Capt. Harris' company, will remain at Fort Dalles.

MURDER.—Davidson, a farmer, who was shot [illegible] on New Dungeness, W. T., by a man named Sanders, died on the 3d inst., while being conveyed in a canoe to the hospital at Port Angeles, for medical treatment. Sanders made his escape. He was firing at a man named Jackson, at the time, and the ball accidentally struck Davidson in the groin.

The Dalles Journal says that Thos. Glenn, of Pleasantville, Iowa, who left that place a few days since with his family, on his way to Linn by way of Fort Benton, had three horses [illegible] at the Deschutes, and was obliged to return.

FIRE AT THE DALLES.—An attempt to fire the town of Dalles was made early on Monday morning by setting fire to an occupied [illegible] building. The fire was extinguished, [illegible] without serious damage.

The Mountaineer says: "Our streets now [illegible] a lively appearance, from the continual throng of pack trains passing in and out."

NEW STEAM BOAT.—We learn that our [illegible] citizen, John Thomas, Esq., commenced this week laying the keel of a new boat, at Milwaukie, to be put on the trade between Oregon City and Portland. Her dimensions will be as follows: Length of keel, 125 feet; beam 24 feet; with four and a half feet hold, and calculated to draw twelve inches of water, thus enabling her to ascend the Clackamas rapids at all seasons of the year. She will be fitted up with cylinders each fourteen inches in diameter, with engines of four and a half feet stroke. The new steamer, we understand, will be commanded by Jos. Kellogg, Esq., of Milwaukie, and is designed to run in connection with the People's Transportation Line.—Argus.

THE LINE.—We have received a letter from Washington City, bearing date March 4th, which gives the Western boundary of Idaho Territory, as follows: "From the Northeast corner of Oregon, along the channel of Snake river to its intersection with Clearwater, thence on the 117th parallel of longitude to Wilkk of the Columbia, then with the Columbia to the North boundary." This line will give satisfaction to almost everybody, and is certainly the most equitable one that could have been selected, taking the adaptability of the country into consideration.—Washington Chronicle, April 17th.

It is stated that Major Drew has received instructions from Gen. Wright that the new company now being raised at Jacksonville shall be attached to the command for Klamath lakes. Each private who furnishes his own [illegible] and horse equipments will receive $12 per month for their use and risk—making his total monthly pay $25. To this also will be added $100 at the end of enlistment.

DROWNED.—A soldier belonging to Fort Steilacoom, known by the name of Mexico, was drowned on New Year evening last. He was drunk at the time, and fell from Webber's wharf into the water, while the tide was out, and the depth of water only [illegible] two and three feet. Though taken out five [illegible] afterwards, life was found to be extinct.—Puget Sound Herald.

A DISLOYAL NEWSPAPER OFFICE DEMOLISHED.—The office of the Jefferson newspaper, a Copperhead sheet published at Richmond, (Ind.,) was demolished by a regiment of paroled prisoners, who felt outraged by its utterance of treason on Sunday night, March 15th.

A subscription has been started in San Francisco by some of the leading French residents, for the relief of the suffering operatives in the manufacturing districts of France. Nearly $5,000 had been raised up to the 10th inst.

HAVING RECEIVED A NEW SUPPLY OF DENTAL Instruments, I, as heretofore, take pleasure in stating to my patrons and the public generally that I am prepared to perform all operations belonging to the Dental Department by the newest methods, in the most scientific and most skillful manner.

I also take this opportunity to thank the citizens of Portland and vicinity for their liberal patronage during my residence in this city, and hope, by doing my work not only in conformity in their most economical interests, but also in a style of workmanship not surpassed by any other Dental operator—so make in this my best return to maintain your confidence.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH in the newest and most improved methods, constructed on the following materials:

GOLD, PLATINA, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, or CORALITE BASE,

at the option of the Patient.

The Extraction of Teeth by his method is new to any other, as the patient need not undergo the unpleasant, if not dangerous state of inhaling Chloroform, but will have his tooth extracted without that horrid pain which he generally treats to the last endurable moment of suffering.

All operations warranted to give satisfaction, or no charge will be made.

Special attention paid to the regulation of children's teeth.

Difficult Dental Operations particularly solicited.

Ladies waited on at their residences if desired.

Reference of Physicians and Families given at the Office.

SEWING MACHINES

Are unequaled by any for beauty, simplicity of construction and efficacy in working, and will do

IN A PERFECT MANNER,

A greater range of work than any other machine.

The value of a Sewing Machine cannot be estimated by the amount of wood, iron, brass or steel used in its construction, but by the manner in which these materials are put together, and the quantity and quality of the work it turns out. You could buy a watch or a piano-forte for very little money; but if you want either for your own use, you wish an article which can be relied upon, and you will purchase accordingly.

LADD & WEBSTER'S

use a straight needle; curved ones are liable to break.

They make a right lock-stitch, alike on both sides of the work, which cannot be ravelled.

Every machine is sent from our office threaded, and with work under the needle ready for operation, accompanied with such explicit printed instructions as will enable persons who may never have seen a machine to teach themselves.

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can say almost confidently any that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the part freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

Last Cruise of the Monitor.

An actor in the scenes of that wild night when the Monitor went down craves permission to relate the story of her last cruise

Her work is now over. She lies a hundred fathoms deep under the stormy waters off Cape Hatteras. But "the little cheese box on a raft" has made itself a name which will not soon be forgotten by the American people

Every child knows her early story —it is one of the thousand romances of the war,—how as our ships lay at anchor in Hampton Roads, and the Army of the Potomac covered the Peninsula, one shining March day —

"Far away to the South sprung
A little feather of snow white smoke
And we knew that the iron ship Merrimac
Was steadily steering its course
To try the force
Of our ribs of oak

Iron conquered oak. The Cumberland and Cumberland rattled from the sides of the Rebel ship like hail. she passed on resistless and

"Down went the Cumberland all a wreck

The Congress struck her flag and the flag of freedom on the Peninsula waited their turn —for the iron monster belched out fire and shell to both sea and land. Evening cut short her work, and she returned to Norfolk, leaving terror and confusion behind her

The morning saw her return, but now between her expected prey, the Minnesota, and herself, lay a low black raft, to the lookers on from the Merrimack no more formidable than the masts of the sunken Cumberland, or the useless guns of the Congress near whose shattered hulks the Monitor kept guard the avenger of their loss

As the haughty monster approached the scene of her triumph, the shock of an unexampled cannonade checked her career That little black turret poured out a fire so tremendous, so continuous, that the jubilant crew of the Merrimack faltered, surprised terrified. The revolving tower was a marvel to them. One on board of her at the time has since told me, that, though at first entirely confident of victory, consternation finally took hold of all

"D—n it!" said one, "the thing is full of guns"

An hour the contest raged, and then the iron scales of the invincible began to crumble under repeated blows thundered from that strange revolving tower. A slaughtering, destroying shot smashing through the port, a great seam battered in the side, crippled and defeated, the Merrimack turned prow and steamed away.

Thus was the end of her career, as really as when a few weeks later, early morning saw her wrapped in sudden flame and smoke, and the people of Norfolk heard in their beds the report which was her death-knell.

So fear ended for a time, and the Monitor saw little service, until at Fort Darling she dismounted every gun, save one, when all her comrades failed to reach the mark Then, a little worn by hard fighting, she went to Washington for some slight repairs, but specially to have better arrangements made for ventilation, as those on board suffered from the confined air during action.

The first of September a fresh alarm came, when she went down to Hampton Roads to meet the new Merrimack, said to be coming out, and stationed herself at the mouth of the James River, between the buried Congress and Cumberland, whose masts still rose above water, a monument of Rebel outrage and Union heroism Here she remained expectant for more than two months, all on board desiring action, but thinking the new year must come in before anything could be done.

The last week in December found her lying under the guns of Fortress Monroe, and busily fitting for sea. Her own guns had been put in perfect working order, and shone like silver, one bearing the name of Worden, the other that of Ericsson. Her engineer, Mr. Campbell, was in the act of giving some final touches to the machinery, when his leg was caught between the piston-rod and frame of one of the oscillating engines, with such force as to bend the rod, which was an inch and a quarter in diameter and about eight inches long, and break its cast iron frame, five-eighths of an inch in thickness The most remarkable fact in this case is, that the limb, though jammed and bruised, remained unbroken, our men in the ironclad seeming themselves to bear on.

The surgeon who examined the limb, astonished at the narrow escape, thought at first that it might, by energetic treatment, be cured in a few days, and as the engineer, who had been with the vessel from her launching, was extremely anxious to remain on board, he was disposed to yield to his wishes but afterwards, reflecting that confined air and sea-sickness would have a bad effect, concluded to transfer him to the hospital, the engineer remarking as he was carried off,—"Well, this may be Providential"

It was Providential, indeed!

His place was filled, and the preparations went on briskly. The turret and sight-holes were calked, and every possible entrance for water tonde secure, only the smallest openings being left in the turret top, and the blower stacks through which the ship was ventilated. On the afternoon of December 29th, 1862, she put on steam, and, in tow of the Rhode Island, passed the fort and out to sea under sealed orders.

General joy was expressed at this relief from long inaction. The sick came upon deck, and in the clear sky, fresh air, and sense of motion, seemed to gain new life.

The Rhode Island, like all side-wheel steamers, left in her wake a rolling, foaming track of wave, which the Monitor, as she passed over it, seemed to smooth out like an immense flatiron. In the course of the afternoon, we saw the Passaic in tow of the State of Georgia, like a white speck, far in advance of us.

As we gradually passed out to sea, the wind freshened somewhat; but the sun went down in glorious cloth of purple and crimson, and the night was fair and calm above us, though in the interior of our little vessel the air had already begun to lose its freshness. We suffered more or less from its closeness through the night, and woke in the morning to find it heavy with impurity from the breathe of some sixty persons, composing the officers and crew Sunrise found us on deck, enjoying pure air, and watching the East.

"Where yonder dancing billows dip,
Far off to Ocean's misty verge,
Ploughs Morning like a full sailed ship,
The Orient's cloudy surge.
With spray of scarlet fire before
The ruffled gold that round her dies,
She sails above the sleeping shore,
Across the waking skies"

During the night we had passed Cape Henry, and now, at dawn, found ourselves on the ocean,—the land only a blue line in the distance A few more hours and that had vanished. No sails were visible, and the Passaic, which we had noticed the evening before, was now out of sight. The morning and afternoon passed quietly, we spent most of our time on deck, on account of the confined air below, and being on a level with the sea, with the spray dashing over us occasionally, amused ourselves watching the shifting hues and forms, from the deep green of the first long roll to the foam crest and prismatic tints of the falling wave

As the afternoon advanced, the freshening wind, the thickening clouds, and the increasing roll of the sea gave those accustomed to ordinary ship life some new experiences. The little vessel plunged through the rising waves, instead of riding them, and as they increased in violence, lay, as it were under their crests, which washed over her continually, so that even when we considered ourselves safe, the appearance was that of a vessel sinking.

"I'd rather go to sea in a diving bell!" said one, as the waves dashed over the pilot house, and the little craft seemed buried in the water

"Give me an oyster now!" cried another,—anything!—only let it be wood, and something that will float over, instead of under the water!"

Still she plunged on, and about six thirty P M we made Cape Hatteras, in half an hour we had rounded the point, and many on board expressed regret that the Monitor should not have been before the Passaic in doing so Our spy glasses were in constant use we saw several vessels in the distance and about seven P M discovered the Passaic four or five miles astern, north of us, in tow of the steamer State of Georgia.

A general hurrah went up,— 'Hurrah for the first iron-clad that ever rounded Cape Hatteras!' Hurrah for the little boat that is first in everything! The distance between ourselves and the Passaic widened, and we gradually lost sight of her

At half-past seven a heavy shower fell, lasting about twenty minutes At this time the gale increased; black, heavy clouds covered the sky through which the moon glimmered fitfully, allowing us to see in the distance a long line of white plunging foam, rushing toward us,—sure indication to a sailor's eye, of a stormy time

A gloom overhung everything the banks of cloud seemed to settle round us, the moan of the ocean grew louder and more fearful Still our little boat pushed doggedly on, victorious through all we thought that here, too she would conquer, though the beating waves sent shudders through her whole frame. Bearing still the marks of one of the fiercest battles of the war we had grown to think her invulnerable to any assault of man or element and as she breasted these huge waves plunging through one only to meet another more mighty we thought, "She is staunch' she will weather it"

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall give in such information as may be required by any Assistant Assessor, and all persons are hereby notified that all legally assessable Income and property must be given in. Assessors are required to assess all persons who fail to make returns, and no appeals will be allowed in such cases but no former assessment shall be reduced except upon proof that the party has been assessed more than once for the same property. Every person has a right to deduct from his whole income the amount of debts actually due and owing by him, and the amount of losses sustained during the year by fire, shipwreck, or by debts due to him which have become entirely worthless, and he may also deduct the amount of premiums paid for insurance against fire, and the amount of taxes assessed upon his property, and paid within the year. All persons are required to render in the list of their taxable property, real and personal, and of their income, on or before the 1st day of March next. Persons who shall neglect or refuse to render in such list, will be assessed by the Assistant Assessor, and the addition of fifty per cent. will be added to the amount assessed.

For Example:

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable,) many of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous advertisers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of their nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded Cordials drugs and christened Tonics Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in pestilence bottles and big bellied kegs, under the different appellation of Bitters which instead of curing only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in debility

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev J Newton Brown D D Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge

Although I disapprove to use or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their frequent bad effects, I feel know of no sufficient reasons why a man should not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I published in my friend Robert Shoemaker Esq for the removal of the prejudice by proper tests, and if encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of health and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them J NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23 1857

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters put up in quart bottles, a superficial of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 25 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by roots or Coriander Seed. This class of Bitters has ruined, and will continue to ruin as long as they can be sold Hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. Big Bear use the system as kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attending upon a drunkard's life and death

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitter, we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less. Bear in mind all the various of Hoofland's Bitters is composed of the purest article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS!

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure him of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life In the late published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be seen that many large hospitals were suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be speedily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. If proper assisting from other sources the digestive organs are speedily restored We have no hesitation in saying that if these Bitters were freely administered in our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following letter We send well authenticated are from one of the nation's heroes, whose life it may be truly said, "has been written in the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—We gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters have saved my life. There is no mistake in this. I was ordered for by members of my comrades some fresh specimens were procured, and who were quite competent of all the circumstances of my case. I, and have been free from the first symptoms as a member of Sherman's celebrated battery at Under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure consequent upon my a disorder I was attacked in September last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days on the hospital This was followed by great debility and then an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer Side of Rose, from which I landed on the 26th of June Since that time I have been about as long as my constitution would permit, but I still have a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force it down soon, it was impossible to throw up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach Life could not last under these circumstances, and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, to which our comrades and myself in the group of the Second Archer Brooke Battery, had to do no more for me and I also I made ready to go home, and to make such disposition of my limited means as best suited me. As a last resort I was induced to visit one of the hospital Mr Hoofland's Establishment at Arch Street advised me, as a forlorn hope I try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle From the first I pronounced taking them the good which I felt in my stomach and I am now, thank God fast recovering better Though I have taken but five bottles, I have gained in pounds and I feel sanguine of being restored to my wife and daughters, from whom I have been so long for eighteen months, for gentlemen I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Harper's Ferry who followed the flag of vague fearing I will live with you and I will recommend the use of your Bitters with all those of my comrades in life.
